Date	Book/Author	Presenter
April 12	Homer and Langley by E.L. Doctorow	Gil Gjertsen
	Highly imagined from the weird real-life existence of NY's fabled Collyer brothers, this most recent novel from a noted contemporary American author reflects on American life in the 20th century.
April 26	Barchester Tower by Anthony Trollope	Dr. Nathan Elliott
	Our guest from VSU's Department of English will introduce us to the enjoyment of the work of 19 th -century novelist Trollope.
May 10	Our Noble Quest by Ron Irwin	Ron Irwin
	Ron, recently retired from LHS School System, has spent years researching and documenting the history of education in Lowndes County. Books will be available for purchase, but review copies are in Eric's office.
May 24	Cutting for Stone by Abraham Verghese	Anne Gunter
	Sweeping, old-fashioned novel examines love, betrayal, redemption, and the practice of medicine from Ethiopia to Africa to America. Features unforgettable characters and exotic locales.
June 14	Discussion of Next Year's Readings	All Members
	Déjà vu all over again. What book have you read more than once? Would you like to revisit some of our 50 Favorites from 15 Years of Bookfellows ? See attached list. Group response will determine what we read next year. Don't miss it!
July 12	Annual Ocean Pond Picnic	Members and Guests
	Once again, we have been invited to share the relaxation and good dining at the Ocean Pond Clubhouse. Bring a guest. More details nearer the date.
